

The fourth in the 2006 free lecture series:

“Sustainability in Construction”

Green Building

Dan Winters,
Evolution Partners,
Washington DC

Energy prices are experiencing significant increases, global warming issues are forefront in the national media and landfills are filling up.

Leading companies in the real estate industry are responding with a focus on green building standards.

Dan Winters will describe these standards and engage in a discussion of the strategic thinking that helps address future environmental concerns.

Construction Waste Recycling

Ken Mogul, Ace Waste, Reston VA

Construction, renovation and demolition debris is the most recyclable portion of the waste stream, yet is largely ignored.

Ken Mogul will share his expertise in this field, and discuss how municipalities may approach waste issues more holistically and sensibly.
